TESTIMONIALS.

From Mr. John J. Mahon, Capilla del Señor, June 29, 1881.—The dip which you sent me I used according to directions, and I can assure you that it gave the desired result. During four years of practical experience of curing scab in sheep, I have seen many specifics used, and I consider Gilliard's the only one that gives complete satisfaction. It improves the quality and promotes the growth of the wool. For efficiency, economy and facility of application, I prefer it to any dip I have used.

From Mr. James M. Thomas, Estancia Santa Ines, Monte, June 29, 1881.—Having given a good trial to Gilliard's Dip, I have much pleasure in bearing my testimony to its valuable quality as a Sheep Dip. It destroys all insect life with which sheep are infected, mixes readily in cold water, does not injure the hands, and softens all hard parts. I shall strongly recommend it whenever an opportunity offers. As regards the cheapness, it should command a good sale.

"The market is being flooded with sheep dips, some of which are all that is claimed, and also by some which are worth little or nothing. Our readers will have noticed that several preparations have been mentioned in letters recived from the camp showing that there are several good preparations."—B.A. Herald.

NOTE—A sample drum will be supplied gratis to any Estanciero who is willing to give the Dip a fair trial and report on same

TREASURY BILL PROJECT.

President Avellaneda's words to his countrymen on the opening of Congress a few years ago, when he adverted to the hardships and penury Argentines had suffered and were willing to suffer rather than suspend the payment on the foreign debt, come very fresh to us on the reading of Senator Ortiz's bill to compel the holders of our 9 p. cent Treasury Bills to exchange them for 6 p. cents. The measure is so indefensible that we cannot even plead poverty as an excuse, since it must be admitted that the country to-day is much better able to pay 9 p. cent interest than in the year 1876.

Mr Ortiz has neither right nor justice, nor law, nor equity on his side, yet he has proposed a measure which, if sanctioned, would irretrievably injure our credit abroad, and hurry the Government into a purchase of these Treasury Bills at par, which at the slightest turn in the London money market may before long be purchased at a discount.

The Government is in the position of a party who mortgages his property for a certain number of years at a high rate of interest, and who beause money cheapens in the market seeks to break the mortgage and compel the mortgagee to accept a much lower rate of interest, years before the mortgage expires.

Of course, if such were possible, all our laws of contract are at an end, and all our jurisprudence useless. By the terms of the law creating these Treasury Bills a certain sum every quarter was to be applied towards their amortization, and whether the Government pays that sum to parties bidding for the amortization or holds it apart, allowing the amounts to accumulate in the absence of amortization bids, the object is the same, and this is the only honorable interpretation that this question will admit of.

The Treasury Bills coustitute a public debt maturing in a certain number of years: supposing that every quarter the amortization took place, the debt would only be paid off in 25 years, which is the term the Government must wait to call up the Treasury Bills and pay them off at par; but will any sensible man say that in 25 years, with such wondrous events occurring both in Europe and America, opportunities will not arise when these Treasury notes that to-day are at 20 p. cent premium will not be selling as they were last year at 30 p. cent discount. Mr Ortiz anticipates too much, and even supposing that the law allowed the Government to buy up all this stock at par, the policy of such a step is most questionable, since so many changing years have to run before they legitimately mature.

But we want a man in Congress to stand up and defend the credit of the Argentine Republic; some one who will go back over the history of the country for the last ten years and show all we have done to pay our way. The splendid credit which the country enjoys abroad is the reward of all our efforts in the long years of crisis, and yet all this is to be imperilled by a Salteña Senator, who has discovered a short way out of a long debt. Repudiation is not the term to be applied to this measure; doubtless some honorable Senators, when the Bill comes up for discussion, will employ the proper adjective.

MEMORIA DE HACIENDA.

It has more than once been asserted, not so much in Buenos Ayres as in England, that the Argentine National Government railways were lines across barren territories, without any termini, and without any hope of ever paying the expenses of working. Here in Buenos Ayres the extensions of the Andine and Central Northern Railways were opposed under the above-mentioned pretext and urgent representations were made that, in view of the signal failure of the actual National railways, the Government should wait until the population of the Interior would increase on a larger scale.

When in 1876 the Government was constructing the Tucuman Railway, this paper was one of the very few supporters of that great enterprise: all will remember the opposition made in that year: the arguments advanced obeyed the old narrow-sighted routine, and all condemned the Government, the engineer and the railway. Mr Cortinez's ably written 'Memoria de Hacienda' is a conclusive argument, and his figures will convince many of their folly in opposing every new railway enterprise or extension in the Interior. We, for our part, verily believe, that there are many people who still cling to the agreeable conviction that the Tucuman Railway has been a failure, that the sleepers are rotten, and, in fact, Tucuman is a mud ranch with no trade in produce to support the line.

There is a saying that to doubt is to be wise, and this may account for so many wise people doubting the success of any scheme. But error is a human failing all suffer from, and the subjoined figures of the Hacienda report will show at a glance the brittle foundations of some opposing parties and the secure basis of most of the National railways.

On the Central-Northern Railway or Tucuman line, on which, according to the numerous reports, nobody can travel, as both bridges and sleepers were in danger of being washed away in any storm, we now see a most prosperous traffic, which will be doubled as soon as the line reaches Jujuy and the Bolivian frontier. The following are the returns for 1880:—

	$fts.
Returns.....	644,187	05
Expenses,.....	262,080
Net profit.....	382,107	05

As regards the Andine Railway, its prospects were also supposed to be pretty hazy: and, in fact, the territory the line passes through was not of a nature to lead one to entertain very bright hopes. The line is now being rapidly extended to San Luis, a very poor province, but its ultimate terminus in Mendoza and San Juan will develop the great wealth of the Cuyo provinces: the latter assersion is not a mere rhetorical expression, but the opinion of all those who have had an opportunity of studying the physical conditions of both those provinces: aside from the prolific nature of the soil and the advantages of the temperate zone, there is a considerable mineral wealth of gold, copper, silver, quicksilver, &c. The Andine Railway, in our opinion, will be a more successful enterprise than the Central Northern, in spite of its small returns for 1880, which are, nevertheless, proportionate to its extension. The following are the figures for 1880:—

	$fts.
Returns.....	158,450	11
Expenses.....	96,182	36
Net profit.....	62,267	75

If the Tucuman and the Andine railways are enterprises which redound to the credit of the Argentine Government, no words can express the discouraging impression one receives when reading the results of that most unfortunate of railway enterprises, the too well-known Primer-Entre-Riano. One might suppose that a province that has cost the treasury of the Nation over 3 millions sterling in rebellions and interventions, could at least afford to make a Government railway a paying one, if only for the sake of decorum. Here we have a railway line that yields yearly £548 stg., taking five paper patacons to the pound. The very insignificance of the figure is enough to persuade the Argentine Government to take up the rails and remove the rolling-stock, if only for the sake of escaping ridicule. The Primer Entre-Riano should be made a present to the Entre Rios Government, in exchange for an abolition of all local taxes on hides and cattle. In order to quote facts we reproduce the figures of this railway for 1880—

Returns	$f.2,742	15
Expenses	12,000
Net loss	$f.9,257	85

This is certainly a railway 'en miniature,' and what with bad management, local disturbances and high expenses, the Primer Entre-Riano is far from answering the expectations which were entertained when confiding bondholders rocked the cradle of its prospects. The Primer Entre-Riano can only pay under one condition, and that is its immediate extension through more populated and prosperous camps. Herewith we close the chapter on National Railways, which has proved a surprise to many, but as yet does not answer the sanguine expectations harbored by the few.

Mr Stavelius C.E. reports that the tea pine of Tucuman is superb timber, as good in every way as what is imported from the United States. This means the stoppage of another import before long.

FUNERAL OF MISS JACKSON

Yesterday, a few moments before that Angel of Charity Helen Jackson breathed her last, she received Extreme Unction from the hands of Monsignor Yeregui. Two hours before she died the patient was delirious. Her brothers were beside her bed at the supreme moment. When her spirit winged its flight to the Almighty, her body was placed in the coffin and a 'chappelle ardente' was arranged round it. Two priests then recited the Office for the Dead. The most distinguished members of Montevidean society thronged the house.

The funeral cortege left the paternal mansion of the deceased lady, in Calle 25 de Mayo, this morning at 9 o'clock, proceeding through Calles Uruguay, Ituzaingo, Agraciado and the Suarez Road to the Jackson quinta, Atahualpa. The hearse was surmounted by beautiful white plumes, while over sixty wreaths of natural flowers hung from every part of the vehicle and were heaped inside; the horses were covered with long black cloths. After the hearse came the coach with the chief mourners, and after it 265 carriages, private and hackney, carrying over 1000 persons. In the sad cortege were to be seen members of the Government, Legislature, and Diplomatic Body, of the Catholic Club, and all the religious associations: also all the parish priests of the city and over 40 clergymen of all the congregations here. There were also many Sisters of Charity, Dominicans and several others. The relatives, accompanied by Monsignor Inocencio Yeregui, Bishop of Canops 'in partibus infidelium,' the Vicar General and all the clergy of the Chapter, headed the procession. The coffin was of rosewood, almost totally devoid of ornament.

An enormous crowd of the poorer classes, mostly women, lined the avenues of the quinta; others flocked to the Central Cemetery, under the erroneous impression that the interment was to take place there. All were weeping bitterly, more than if they were relatives of the deceased: their tears were those of gratitude to the Angel of Good who was returning to their common mother, Earth, after a brief stay amongst them, and the infinite realms of the Creator are now the abode of her pure spirit.

When the cortege reached the gate of the quinta, opposite which stands the Jackson Chapel, a superb Gothic structure, all the poor female children of the asylum maintained by the Jackson family at its sole cost, and where these little ones receive shelter, food, clothes and education, were found drawn up in double files. This asylum was the creation and special care of the gentle being who has passed away so young. The sight of that vast and silent crowd was most touching. The poor little orphans wept and sobbed from the very depth of their hearts: the bitter tears left traces even on their young faces. Well might they weep! Their tender mother was dead. The angel whose delight it was to help and cherish them was gone for ever. Yet her spirit floated over them: the beloved lost one can never be forgotten by them; she is lost to mortal sight, but not to that of the soul. Poor, innocent orphan children Their tears affected the bystanders deeply. Noble hearts can never be indifferent to the sufferings of their fellow beings. This was the case with the noble and virtuous Helen Jackson. Even men wept at the sobs of those little orphan girls. But they are not left destitute. While a single member of the Jackson family lives they will be cared for, clothed and fed as they have been up to the present.

The coffin was then borne to the centre chapel: six Sisters of Mary walked besides the remains so sacred to them. The coffin was placed on a catafalque with lighted candles round it. The sacred edifice was draped in black, with myriads of lights everywhere. Monsignor Yeregui celebrated the Mass for the Dead, and at its conclusion Dr. Soler delivered a most eloquent and impressive oration, although he was labouring under the most profound emotion. The rev. orator took for his text the words of Saint John the Evangelist—'Happy those who die in the grace of the Lord: their virtues follow them to the tomb and thence to the mansion of the Just.' At the conclusion of the oration the coffin was deposited in the family vault, which is at the foot of and behind the high altar. The remains of the parents, brother and nephews of the deceased lady are laid in the same vault, and over their funeral tablets flowers, watered by tears of grateful sorrow, will never cease to spring.

When all was over the immense concourse retired in the deepest silence, but the sobbing of the orphan girls still broke most painfully through the solemn hush. Two hours later we returned to the chapel and found over 100 wreaths of white camelias and violets laid on the tomb, while the elder orphan girls were on their knees round it, praying. For two days the chapel will remain open to the public.

Father Musmela, to whom we are indebted for many data, recounted to us, the intense pleasure which Miss Jackson used to experience and display whenever the orphans accompanied her in her walks through the quinta: they pulled flowers and made them into little bouquets for her, and she in return repaid them with smiles and kisses. Each of the orphans has placed a little bouquet on the coffin. We sincerely feel for the deep sorrow that has fallen on the Jackson family.—Ferro-Carril.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The French steamer Savoie brings news of an awful drought in Switzerland, and the flocks and herds dying by wholesale from thirst and heat. Terrible excitement in Spain owing to continuance of incendiary fires: losses tremendous. French in a tight place in Tunis, and only masters of the ground they stand on. anarchy everywhere.

'The winter of our discontent was 'made glorious summer' yesterday by a meteorological transformation as sudden as it was agreeable. A more lovely Spring day than yesterday could not be experienced. An early estanciero visitor told us frankly that the rapid change in one night took him quite aback, and he had never seen anything like it before.

Oh! The latest 'canard' about Latorre is that he is again in Pelotas. Sir Boyle Roche's bird (which must have been a duck also) was nothing to the Colonel in the way of ubiquity. There is no other news from the sister city, excepting a sad suicide there and a shocking murder at Durazno, but we spare our readers particulars, such crimes being, alas! too common in these regions.

The Mission of the Passionist Fathers at San Roque church closes to-day. The Papal Benediction will be given at the last Mass, at 1 o'clock.

The news from Peru is that Pierola has now in the field an army of 10,000 guerillas, and that he is ready to treat with the Chilians for an honourable peace.

There is a prodigious rumpus in South Barracas owing to a 'corner' in lean mutton chops, produced by a Syndicate of the owners of the sheep mataderos down there—all Italians we suppose. Some days ago these worthies agreed to double the price of every dead sheep sold, and the unfortunate 'vecinos' are cornered as badly as the Bears of Nat. Bank shares. The Municipality is called on to interfere, as the neighbours find it a very serious thing to be 'short' of their diurnal mutton chops. The spirit of speculation is now getting so rampant that anything serves for an 'esquina.'

We commend the following extract from a home colleague to the distinguished Director of the Cordoba Observatory. People will feel wretchedly nervous at finding that the nucleus of comets is solid. A smack to Mother Earth from colliding with a little, solid 'pelota', 16,000 miles in diameter, would soon put us all past praying for:—"M. de Fouveille, of Paris, has put the balloon to a new use, and one which must in course of time commend itself to scientific men. He calculated, on precise data, that a view of the comet of last June from a height of say a thousand metres would be a very different matter from an inspection made with 'terra firma' as a starting point. Therefore he ascended in a balloon, provided with all his astronomical apparatus, and succeeded in securing a most satisfactory observation. As a result, he tells us that the nucleus was solid, and some sixteen thousand miles in diameter, the light being altogether reflected. So far our stock of knowledge is materially increased, and we may expect balloons to come into general use for such investigations. When the naked eye can detect more at an elevation of two-thirds of a mile than the telescope discloses from below, it would be a mistake in the future to ignore the value of a balloon as an agent."

The repetition of Checkmate and the burlesque of Faust next Friday 16th inst, will commence at 7.45 p.m.; there will be only one interval, viz, between the two pieces, and the whole performance will conclude at 11 o'clock p.m. There's to be 'Martin's weather' as usual, and all our amateurs intend to act on the occasion as well or even better than many professionals. The only thing they ask for in return is to be smiled upon by hundreds of 'lovely creatures,' and to be applauded by crowds of their male friends. We are requested to inform the amateurs that the last rehearsal of Checkmate will take place at the Opera House to-morrow, Monday 12th inst, at 7 o'clock p.m.; that of Faust at 9 o'clock p.m. Punctual attendance is requested.

Mr Thomas Dodds, the well-known surveyor, will leave on 13th to survey the estancia of Mrs Honor Kenny. See advertizement.

The Chascomus Cattle Fair will soon rival Ballinasloe: Up to Friday the sales of animals effected reached $ 1,400,000 m|c. This looks like business.

The Tucuman Railway is looking up. Its receipts for August were over 18,000 pats.

Advices from Entre Rios report the Locusts to be in full force there. Mr James McDougall's camps, on the river Cle, have already suffered severely.

On Tuesday next, at the Teatro de la Opera, the Italian version of the famous comedy of H. J. Byron, entitled 'Our Boys,' will be given. This piece, as many of our readers are aware, had the longest run of any play in the annals of histrionic history, having been played for nearly three years. Our Italian friends, we notice, have announced in their programmes, that this comedy was repeated for a hundred consecutive nights in London; if they had stated instead of a hundred, one thousand five hundred times, they would have been nearer the mark. As the present company now playing at the Opera is one of the best that has ever been here, we feel confident the piece will be well rendered, and can safely promise all lovers of the drama a pleasant evening's enjoyment. Mr. Morelli can count upon seeing a good number of our boys to witness his 'I Nostri Bimbi.'

We hear that the officers and men of H.B.M. ships the Garnet and Dwarf have been invited to attend the coming Amateur Theatricals on Friday night, and that one of the officers of the latter vessel will take a leading part in Checkmate. Our amateurs can rely upon being loudly applauded this time by a jolly set of Jack Tars.

Commissary Tasso has again proved himself the cleverest policeman in South America. He has been for two months on the track of a gang of forgers and has run them to earth. It appears that the forgers were short of money to carry out their scheme, and Tasso sent a trusty agent to join them and procure them the cash they wanted. The chief criminals are a German engraver named Schoninge, and a Spanish lithographer named Perez: the former is only some months out of the Penitentiary, where he was imprisoned for forging Provincial Bank notes in 1873. The 'capitalists' in the case, who were duly 'coached' in their parts by the Commissary, are two retired officers, Messrs. Britos Bros., now grocers in Calle Artes. The forgers promised them 150,000 m|c in good money, 500,000 m|c in the forged notes, and 3 p. cent of the profits. Five millions currency were to be forged in notes of from 200 to 5000 m|c. The capitalists made it a condition, before giving the money, that they were to see the false plates finished and a specimen of the notes. On Friday at 4 o'clock the plates were to be shown. Commissaries Tasso, Suffern and Segovia hid themselves in a house opposite and agreed with Messrs Britos on a signal when the forgers entered the trap disguised policemen were hanging about. Perez entered the almacen with the false plates: the signal was made, and Tasso had him in an instant, in spite of his resistance. The plates and a lot of forged notes were found on his person; the notes were so admirably forged that when shown to the clerks in the Bank they could not distinguish them from genuine notes. Schoninge was seized in his house in Calle Ayacucho, where all the chemical appliances for the forgery were found. Another German, and an Austrian, have also been arrested: in the house of the former an apparatus for imitating sovereigns was found. Commissary Basso rendered most valuable assistance to Commissary Tasso in this affair. They are both a high credit to the Buenos Aires police. Hunting criminals seems to be mere sport for these clever officials.

We received yesterday the programme of the concert which will be given at the Coliseum on the 13th inst., in aid of the orphans and poor children of the German School, and this being for a charitable purpose of the most deserving kind, there will, doubtless, be a full house. At the same time we observe, with agreeable surprise, that the programme is a novelty in Buenos Aires. A concert, in its principal part composed of 'Cori de hombres á capella!' What do you think of that? This reminds us of the famous 'Capella de Sixtiuns' in Rome. But no wonder, as the Teutons were great singers even in Tacitus's time, and, undoubtedly, have greatly improved since. We learn that there are 'seventy gentlemen' in the twelve 'Cori á capella,' and this ought to make a powerful impression. Another novelty is the 'Sinfonia infantil' of Hayden, which will be executed by children, for which purpose it was composed by the great author. This is entirely new in Buenos Aires, and will be listened to with the greatest interest the comic effect being remarkable. Though last, not least, we shall have the pleasure of hearing some sweet songs from Mrs. Bertha Krutisch de Voss and some splendid pieces on the piano by Miss Adelaide Diehl: both will be superb. Still more, Messrs. Kirschbaum, Lederer and Ristenpart—those well and favourably known singers will sing some nice duets and solos. So we hope nobody will hesitate to spend 50 paper dollars for such a charitable object, while being at the same time remunerated by an enjoyment which we are rarely offered except by Teuton's Vatherland. The committee hope to be excused by any person or family who may not, through oversight, have received the invitation. Tickets can be had at the Coliseum on the night of the concert, or previously, at Messrs. Mackern's.

Number 11,147 won the 50,000 pats yesterday in the Montevidean Lottery. The ticket was sold only yesterday morning, by a little boy, to some gentlemen who have offices in the new house opposite the Provincial Bank.

A return match between the Buenos Aires Cricket Club and the officers of H.M.S. Dwarf will come off at Palermo to-morrow. The ships will leave on Tuesday, so this will be the last bout with the the bat for their officers here,

Old Gas Co. Shares	1950

The gold market, spite of all the rumours about the Chilian treaty, &c., rules weak. The bulls made a dash at the board to-day, marking down a sale of 1,000 pats deliverable to end of year at 25.80, but this is not the market rate. Every man at the ring would willingly sell at the same price. The cash sales amounted to 99,000 pats, opening at 25.55, and closing at 25.50. For the end of the month 315,000 pats were sold, and as the Government broker was seen buying prices took an upward turn, but an Italian gold broker sold in one lot 250,000 pats, which flattened everything. For long dates to end of year 571,000 pats sold at 25.50–55, closing sellers at latter rate. There is no life whatever in the gold market, and the Provincial Bank has firmly established 25.50 as the rate.

The Provincial Bank balance-sheet was out to day and will be found at foot; the figures stagger the market, inasmuch as spite of all the paper money called in by the Bank, it seems they have less paper on hand now than the previous month, which is most extraordinary and calls for some explanation. It is said on Change that last year the Bank drew in close on 200 millions currency without the public knowing it, and that they can do the same now, but we opine it should figure in the balance-sheet.

The news about the treaty is that the Chilian Government has asked for the debate to be prorogued for 20 days. People are getting very fidgetty about this matter; the slightest hitch would at once affect the market, but people who ought to know how the question stands are fixed in their conviction that the treaty will stand and both countries will approve of it.

In Cedulas the day was nearly over before business in this stock began, and then very little done. 44,000 sold cash at 99½, and for end of month 15,000 at 99½; buyers were offering for cash, but no more sellers at present rates. Respecting the mooted operation of 5,000 pats offered for right to deliver 100,000 Cedulas at par up to end of year there seems to be no truth whatever in it, as many parties offered to-day to accept the money and sign the contract, but no one could be found willing to pay the cash. Evidently the business was reported with a view to put down the stock, and counteract the effect of the Maskelyne taking another shipment of Treasury Bills and Cedulas to London.

Many parties ask what has become of Minister Uriburu's project respecting the Mortgage Bank. We certainly understood that this week it was to be presented, but suppose that no further time will be lost and that next week the Minister will send it to the Chambers.

National Bank Shares, as we hinted in our last, look like a tired horse. The Italians still rule the market, and hold everything. "Le azioni della Banca Nazionale continuano ad assorbire tutta l'attenzione degli speculatori Italiani". Around the ring to-day, that is to say outside the outer rail, we saw new faces and new friends from Genoa and Naples; but the market presents a weak appearance, and we hardly think that even the Italians will be able to hold it up. Fully 60,000 shares are now on the market, and to carry these at the moment is a harder job than to jabber Italian or smoke those long detestable Genoese cigars which we regret to see so much used now on Change. Shares opened cash—contanti—at 127½, and rushed up to 128 to drop to 126½, at which they shut with a groan for cash. For Settembre 30 sales reached 4,250 shares, opening at 128½, closing at 127½. For Ottobre only 100 shares sold at 128. For Dicembre another small venture, 100 shares, at 126. "Quasi tutti le partite che si mettono in vendita sono comperate da Italiani." En fin, if the Italians get out of the shares at their present prices they will make millions and establish a reputation as speculators that not even Paris or London Stock Exchange can rival.

Old Gas Shares one sale, 120 shares at 1950. These shares have been slightly affected by a rumoured new Municipal tax, which is all bosh. The Municipality can make no new taxes, and the affair has not even been talked of at the Board.

Yesterday the Provincial Chambers passed the new law for cattle marks; every mark has to be registered next year at a cost of 600 m|c. We are happy to say Messrs Murphy, Sanchez, and Luro opposed this new tax on hacienda, but the bill was passed.

Another law is that the 'guias' for moving cattle in the epidemic time instead of 20 m|c per 100 animals will be 40 m|c irrespective of number, which is an improvement.

The sales at the ring were—
For cash 99,000 25.55–50
For Sept. 30th 315,000 25.50
For Oct. 31st 50,000 25.50–55

At afterhours there was a regular stand from under feeling in National Bank Shares, and prices tottered all the afternoon, closing at 5 o'clock at 124½ sellers for end of month. The pressure on the market is not so much sales for the end of the month as sales cash. The Lion of the market sold yesterday at 130, and we hear netted on the transaction about 10,000 pats. One well-known speculator who holds a very large number of shares cash tried to realize to-day, and couldn't. At half-past 4 men were selling shares on the sidewalk at 124½, but although the fall in prices since yesterday is fully 6, there is no panic in the market. Some of the strongest men stand back to let things find their level next week.

Mr. Jaenish, who has arrived from Paraguay, was welcomed on 'Change; he has been up the Tabicuari.

The s.s. Earl of Lonsdale is now almost full, having engaged the following cargo—

In gold and Cedulas nothing done at afterhours, Cedulas ruled a shade firmer, buyers offering.

The sale of one or two lots of Treasury Bills at 117 reported to-day, and a lot offering for October at 116, not sold. The whole Bolsa condemns the Nacion article on the Ortiz Bill, and pronounces our colleague's arguments wrong from top to bottom; we advert to the matter in our leading columns.

Exchange is reported at 49⅝, ¼, not much doing.

Messrs Duggan sold a large lot of wool in deposit this morning at reserved price, it was said on Change 72 to 76.

Mr Duprat, officer of the Captain of the port of Montevideo, has arrived, bringing up in tow a lighter loaded with part of the cargo of the English ship County of Forfar, which had run aground on the Banco Chico. Mr Duprat, after a conference with the Captain of the port, Col. Mansilla, returns to Montevideo to-day.

The Times of 10th Aug. gives the following important report of the East Argentine Railway Company meeting:—

"The adjourned tenth ordinary general meeting of the East Argentine Railway Co. was held yesterday, at the City Terminus Hotel, the Right Hon. W. N. Massey, M.P., presiding. The report stated that the gross receipts of the railway for the year had been £35,327, as compared with £25,773 in 1879, and the profit was £8,481, as compared with £1,201. The increase in the receipts for the year was £9,554, or 37 o|o over 1879; while the increase in the expenditure was only £2,275. After deducting the debenture interest and other charges, there remained a balance at the credit of the profit and loss account for the year of £44,980, to which was added the balance from 1879 of £170,300, making a total of £215,260. The amounts received from the Argentine Government during the year had realised £15,746, and at the end of the year of 1880 £215,300 remained due. The Government bills then in hand and those since received would, when fully realised, reduce the balance as on that date to about £58,300, which was nearly the amount of the balance of the guarantee for the year 1880. The company's representative at Buenos Aires had forwarded £50,000 in respect of the above bills, and a dividend of 30s per share declared at the last meeting had been paid to the shareholders. The balance of the bills in hand at B. Aires was estimated to realise about £70,000, and on receipt of remittances the Board would declare a further dividend. The chairman, in moving the adoption of the report, stated that the company had passed through a year of disasters, over which they had no control. Their works had been suspended, the workmen being drafted into the army; the telegraphic system had been cut, and their railway was breached from end to end. He then referred to the vast resources of the country, and stated that their development was only a work of time. They might, therefore, expect from time to time that the reports of their agents would announce the fact that new sources of industry and commerce had been opened up. B. Aires was now established as the capital of the federal State. The struggle was over, and they were advised that it would probably not be renewed. The action of the Government had been prompt, and the insurgents had wisely accepted their defeat. The company had made good progress in the last two years, and in the past year the advance had been very considerable, notwithstanding the drawbacks to which he had referred. Without entertaining sanguine expectations, he thought they were justified in having very fair hopes of the future prospects of the line. About £70,000 of the overdue guaranteed interest was now on its way, and in accordance with the powers conferred on them by the shareholders at the last meeting, the Board would distribute it, or such portion of it as they might be advised, without troubling them to assemble at another meeting. Mr J Bramley-Moore having seconded the motion, a short discussion followed, and in reply to Mr William Abbott and other shareholders, the chairman stated that all idea of entering into any arrangement with the Argentine Government by which their guaranteed interest would be reduced had now been abandoned. They had made no positive arrangement with the Government as to the punctual payment of the interest, but that had been the constant desire of the Board. The 7 o|o was guaranteed, and they would not fail to use every exertion to secure the engagement being carried out. The report was then adopted unanimously."

Venta a Plazos

En nuestra casa San Martin No 51

El Martes 20 de September

A las 2 en punto de la tarde

Venderemos al mejor precio y a plazos, por orden del Exmo. Gobierno de la Provincia de Santiago del Estero y con acuerdo de su Legislatura.

Cien leguas de campo, divididas en lotes de a cuatro, teniendo sin embargo el comprador derecho a tomar desde una hasta las cien.

El Gobierno de Santiago ha sido, como lo decimos, autorizado por su Legislatura a vender esta gran zona de tierra, pero a objeto de facilitar la operacion, la venta se hara sin otro plano que el de la Provincia, por cuanto se da el derecho de ubicar donde se quiera, dentro de los limites de la misma.

Con este derecho cualquiera persona que este en el secreto de la situacion de un campo inmediato a la plaza principal, a las quintas contiguas a la ciudad o por sus alrededores, puede pedir su ubicacion alli mismo, como tambien los que conozcan donde existen los que puedan tener pastos de primera calidad aguas permanentes, montes, etc.

El Gobierno de Santiago no pretende con esta operacion hacer un negocio.—Su objeto se limita a fomentar el progreso de su Provincia, poniendo la tierra al alcance de todo el mundo, llamando asi a su centro la formacion de grandes establecimientos y la poblacion consiguiente.

A cada comprador se le dara un boleto con un numero de orden y en el cual se fijara un termino para pedir la ubicacion, de manera que el primera que compre, sea el primero que elija y asi sucesivamente.

Siendo la venta dentro del territorio de Santiage, ningun otro gobierno iniciara protesta alguna, lo que importara garantizar un titulo perfecto y libre de todo gravamen, habiendose resuelto que las escrituras se otorguen ante de oficina de un escribano de esta capital.

El pago se hara mitad al contado al estenderse la escritura y el resto a 6 y 12 meses en garantia del mismo campo.

En resumen—Jamas se ha puesto en venta un lote de tierra en iguales condiciones y desde hoy el publico debe preocuparse de averiguar en que punto pedir la ubicacion del numero de leguas que necesita para la plantacion de establecimientos de campo, ingenios etc.

No obstante de tener, aqui en Buenos Aires un apoderado general el Gobierno de Santiago nosotros daremos mas pormenores en nuestra casa San Martin 51.

ROSARIO.

(From our own Correspondent.)

September 9th.

The grey-haired old town of Santa Fe de Vera Cruz is situated, as most Argentines (not all), know, on a tortuous narrow branch of the Parana, that leaves the parent stream without any particular motive, to sport an independent course of its own for a score or so leagues. This is what is called the Riachuelo, and is to be scene of the debut of the steam dredging machine lately brought out from England. I am afraid it will be labour lost. They will never be able to make a decent port of Santa Fe. The town appears to have been placed on purpose in the most inaccessible spot in that region. Possibly as a protection against the Indians. In front are the islands formed by the Riachuelo and this sluggish stream itself. To the north are the three streets of water called the Guadalupe Lake. To the west and south are the Salado river, the Riachuelo, and low lands and islands. Rivers and lakes are all liable to sudden inundations, and at times Santa Fe becomes an island itself. Communication between the town and the Colonies, all situated on the Western side of the Salado, is at times completely cut off; and in fact intercourse between the forlorn old town and the busy colonial centres has always been very unsatisfactory. The peculiar sixteenth century atmosphere of Santa Fe has not been dissipated in the least by the proximity of five and twenty thousand foreign agriculturists. The same habits obtain; the same idiosyncracy of character that prevents the people from moving out of the old old groove. The aversion to all innovation, social, religious or political. The Municipality was a failure. It was a step towards modern civilization, and the community only want the ancient regime. The corporation was merged with the Executive Government, and the people breathed more freely. What is a Government for they ask if it does not liberate the citizens from the trouble of thinking or acting for themselves on administration affairs? With the exception of a considerable improvemnnt in what is called the port, Santa Fe does not appear to have benefitted morally or materially from the proximity of so many flourishing colonies. The great want of these colonies is an easy and economical outlet for their produce. The port of Santa Fe is a snare; and even should they succeed in building a railroad to the first line of colonies, I do not think it would be much used. The little port of Santo Tomé, a few leagues below the Capital, offers better shipping facilities, and Santa Fe will be gradually deserted entirely as a commercial point. What those huge clusters of wealthy and progressive colonies require is a railway that will place them in contact with the great business centre of Rosario. It is useless to talk of railways from the colonies to Santa Fe or any point on the Parana in that region, for there are no available ports. From the junction of the Carcarañia with the Parana, a few leagues above Rosario, up to the Bermejo, or still further North, there is not one decent port on the right bank of the great river, the channel of which is separated from the main land by a belt of bañados or low swampy lands, ranging from five to fifteen miles wide. Passengers travelling up and down the river never catch a glimps of the main land of the Province of Santa Fe until they approach Rosario, in the same way that below Diamante a belt of low islands fifteen or twenty miles across prevent them from seeing Entre Rios. It is evident that the Northern colonies and the Southern part of the Chaco must be connected by rail with Rosario to insure their future grandeur and development, and this should be done by running a central line from the Central Argentine, straight up North through that densly populated region and tapping the Gran Chaco in its progress towards Santiago del Estero.

Some time ago I said in one of my letters that the time would soon arrive when the Province of Santa Fe would export no more wheat. The last season has proved the truth of my prognostication. Very little wheat has left our ports. Almost all has been turned into flour in the great number of mills the province now possess. The colonies of Esperanza and San Carlos possess some of the finest flour mills in the country. In this department the Carcarañia Mill, with unlimited water power, has all the most modern machinery at work and an elevator connected with the mill. The new mill at San Lorenzo, belonging to Mr. Bowmann, worked by steam, is a magnificent establishment. In fact, our many new flour mills possess all the modern appliances of science, to enable them to turn out the finest qualities of flour. The immediate consequence is that our wheat is all ground at home and sent to Buenos Aires in the shape of flour.

Prices are becoming weaker as it becomes more vulgarly known that stocks are large, and that they will carry us well over the three months wanting for the advent of the new crop. It is probable some parties will come to grief. Rings are nice things, particularly when one is placed on the third finger of a lovely bride; but commercial rings are sometimes anything but nice.

After ten days of cold rainy weather the sun is becoming vexed that he has been prevented by Santa Rosa from enjoying a perambulation round our Plaza, and has made a mighty effort to dissipate the clouds and has succeeded.

THE HEAT AT HOME.

(From the Daily Telegraph.)

To the intelligent foreigner visiting this metropolis during the recent dog-days few of the everyday street sights that his curious, observant eyes encountered could have been so suggestive of amazement and pity as a ruddy, full-bodied Englishman of the upper middle-class striding over the burning pavement to his business or pleasure at a good round pace, buttoned up to his cravat-pin in a tight-fitting frock-coat, his flushed brow surmounted by a stiff, highly burnished black chimney-pot hat, stout dogskin-gloves encasing his swollen hands, and perspiration visibly bedewing his unspeakably respectable lineaments. Under that superfine double-milled Saxony broadcloth surtout is a waistcoat—not visible, but materially aggravating the heat and constraint from which the wearer is too obviously suffering. Cloth trousers, strong, double-soled boots, a thick silken 'cataract' and unyielding starched collar, complete the outward and visible costume of this martyr to British received notions of decorum and propriety. It may be that the thermometer has thought fit to violate the most hallowed traditions of national temperature. He scorns to follow the example set by so unstable a substance as quicksilver—a mere time-server, whose rise and fall are slavishly obedient to the whims of Dan Phœbus. The well-to-do Briton, no matter what his party politics may be, is a staunch Conservative with respect to all current conventionalities. The most oppressive of these, especially in high summertime, is that which ordains and controls the fashion and material of his out-of-door dress; but he sticks to it with a perseverance that would be heroic were it not ridiculous, because there is no mundane ill of which he stands so chronically in fear as social indictment for the heinous crime of oddity—for the breach of an unwritten law, cruelly oppressive to all who uphold it, but adhered to with as rigid an exactitude as though a point of honour were involved in its faithful observance. No infringement of this mysterious code is more bitterly resented by English society than what respectable people are pleased to designate as 'eccentricity' in dress; so the London merchant, broker, Government clerk, solicitor, or wealthy tradesman envelopes himself during the sultry summer months in garments ingeniously devised for the development and maintenance of abnormal bodily heat, consoling himself for infinite discomfort with the reflection that he is in every respect as are his fellow-citizens, and that no man can with justice accuse him of the least proclivity towards innovation in the direction of personal ease and convenience. Thus attired, without a ventilating flaw in his social harness, he labours painfully along a crowded, sunny thoroughfare, breathing heavily and mopping his moist forehead with a moister handkerchief, an object of comical compassion to some coolly-clad alien—say, a Frenchman arrayed in a loose silken wrapper, nankeen trousers, light shoes, and an all but imponderable straw hat—who, contemplating his unnecessary agony, smiles cynically, and murmurs 'Consecrated blue! has he hot, that one there! One must be mad—mad to be tied—to dress oneself in a manner so insensate by a heat thus ferocious!'

Seriously speaking, it is time that the arbiters of fashion, those illustrious and potent authorities whose exalted position and commanding influence entitle them to take the initiative in all sorts of minor social reforms, and who, fearless of snubs and "chaff," may safely dare to innovate, should introduce some seasonable modifications in the Englishman's every-day costume. Improvements of this particular description can only be effected from above and by the force of example. Of the field of reform in clothing it may with truth be averred that "Dukes may rush in where brokers fear to tread." We English, undoubtedly, are instinctively conservative in small and unimportant matters; but we are also eminently susceptible of conversion to customs and fashions recommended to us by leaders of society, and are never more thoroughly satisfied with ourselves than when we are imitating our betters with more or less fidelity and good taste. It needs but a little timely boldness upon the part of some important personages, promptly communicating itself to the elect who constitute their immediate entourage, to abolish the constrictive frock-coat and oppressive chimney-pot, at least during that tropical period commonly known as 'the height of the London season.' Few of those who have freely taken part in the multifarious gaieties of the weeks preceding the period of cooler weather which lately set in, will readily forget the torment they have undergone at garden parties, afternoon 'teas', exhibitions of paintings, and other daylight recreative gatherings, by reason of their bondage to glossy broadcloth and the sable 'stove-pipe,' as the British hat is scornfully styled by our American kinsmen. The eternal gratitude of patient mediocrity and long-suffering respectability, themselves forlorn of audacity and enterprise adequate to self-emancipation from the tyranny of those baleful garments, will be rightfully due to the great Reformer who shall initiate a customary epoch of white duck and soft felt, and teach the middle-class Englishman to adapt his clothes to his climate, from a picturesque as well as a common-sense point of view.
